Re: Twitter Ad Support Case #88236157

Greetings Ms. Gadde:

The purpose of this letter is to resolve a problem with Twitter, Inc. through our coordinated efforts toward a mutual understanding and communication.

The undersigned has two (2) accounts with Twitter:

1. @David_J_Koch
2. @StainOnAmerica

Both of the aforementioned Twitter accounts are registered to the undersigned, with accurate and verifiable information.

On or about July 10, 2018, the undersigned began an advertising campaign, was charged, and paid for, and was granted a “Promote Mode” account under the @StainOnAmerica Twitter handle.

On or about July 10, 2018 and July 11, 2018, Twitter marked both accounts as “not eligible.”

The undersigned has exchanged numerous email messages with ad-support@twitter.com. In relevant part, Twitter has provided the following explanation for the suspension of my advertising accounts: “Violating content includes, but is not limited to, that which is offensive, vulgar, or obscene.”

One of the suspended accounts had been approved, and Twitter received payment. Twitter has ignored my requests to clarify and specify what content it believes violates its policies.

The Twitter account, @StainOnAmerica links to www.stainonamerica.com, through an intermediary link, www.stainonamericamint.com.

A commemorative coin has been minted that chronicles a historical period in American History. The coin and the website contain exact quotations, which are a matter of an established historical record. These exact quotes are available at numerous credible sources, including Wikipedia.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Donald\_Trump\_Access\_Hollywood\_tape

The following language is incorporated on the home page of the website for this historical commemorative coin. The undersigned would opine that the quote is verbatim, it is a matter of a historical record, and any vulgarity therein arguably supersedes any Twitter policy on the basis of the fact that it is a serious and permanent part of American History. There may also be First Amendment considerations, however I am neither an attorney, nor am I a constitutional scholar. That would be a question for the judiciary.

Please read the oratory, which is an exact copy of that which is published on the undersigned's website.

THE SHINING CITY UPON A HILL

The commemorative coin available on this website is not intended to be comical or some kind of shenanigan, nor is it meant to be an overt criticism. It is an insignia that is emblematic of an extraordinarily serious and astonishingly dismal period in United States history.

As a Nation, the United States is experiencing a historic period, which may well be chronicled among its darkest stains.

With the assistance of at least one foreign foe, The Russian Federation, The United States elected and seated an individual into the Office of President of the United States, whose decorum is demonstratively representative of his core character.

Some may argue that many of the actions of the current occupant of the United States Presidency are a collective Stain on America. This commemorative coin exemplifies the very core of the person whose quotation appears on its reverse side.

Within his first five hundred thirty days as the occupant of the Office of the United States Presidency, that White House tenant has cataloged over three thousand untruthful or misleading statements to America, Her People and Her free press; he has caused grievous and irreparable damage to Her most sacred institutions; through a cunning and mendacious scheme, he has decimated Her intelligence community and Her national security apparatus; he has alienated America's closest World allies; he has surrounded himself with sycophants that have facilitated the dismantlement of revered protections – all of which were implemented For the People and By the People; he has stated that the Founders who penned the United States Constitution were unfair to him and his autocratic aspirations, as he conspicuously romances symbiotic relationships with history's most appalling and decadent despots; he has announced that the nation's free press is the enemy of the American People; he has disparaged women, the disabled, and virtually every race that is not Caucasian; he has divided our nation by acquiescing the very ignorance that accommodates an esoteric agenda of sowing fear, bigotry and hate; he has separated children from their parents solely for his personal sadistic and narcissistic gratifications; and, he has displayed cavalier, categorical and reckless disregard for the Rule of Law.

There are many words and expletives that are used to describe the individual who occupies the Office of the United States Presidency at this time. However there is nothing that serves to more fully define an individual's core character better than the individuals' own spoken words.

Whether or not a person is a supporter of the individual that occupies the Office of the United States Presidency, the accompanying commemorative coin captures the essence of that individual's ethical character, his moral compass, and his capacity, or absence thereof, to lead a people who have spilled blood and spent treasure to defend the Worlds' "Shining City Upon a Hill."

Two Hundred Forty Two Years of building and maintaining Her Independence, currently in decline, yet confident that America will witness Her Constitutions' finest hour.

The quotations made by Mr. Trump are included on the website and on the commemorative coin featured thereon.

Admittedly, the undersigned is personally offended with the verbatim language that describes the core character of its author. The undersigned is also offended, and finds the Vietnam Conflict vulgar and offensive, the manner in which the United States is treating immigrant families vulgar and offensive, as well as a host of other historical events.

Irrespective of anyone's offence, or mine, nevertheless the commemorative coin is historical. The intent is not to offend the Twitter community, but rather to make the historical record permanent.

I would be grateful if you would examine my privileges to advertise on the Twitter platform, the truthful and accurate historical information that I am providing.

Kindly let me know if Twitter will reinstate my advertising accounts by July 25, 2018 at 5:00 P.M. Pacific Time. An email from you or one of your colleagues would be most appreciated.

Best regards,
